UNIVERSITY OVERVIEW

Brock University is a comprehensive institution with rich academic programs and world-class research activity. Located in Ontario's scenic Niagara region on the traditional territory of the Haudenosaunee and Anishinaabe people, Brock is situated in a UNESCO Biosphere Reserve. With nearly 600 full-time faculty members and researchers, Brock's robust academic scope offers more than 70 undergraduate programs and 50 graduate programs in seven dynamic Faculties. The University's 19,000 students come from across Canada and around the world. Brock's renowned student experience is enriched by an emphasis on experiential education, as illustrated by community partnerships, volunteerism and one of Ontario's largest and most successful co-op programs. St. Catharines is an hour and a half from Toronto, 20 minutes to Niagara Falls and a few hours from the nation's capital, Ottawa. We also share a border with New York State. St. Catharines bears the name of the “Garden City”, due to its 1,000 acres of parks, gardens, and trails.

UNIVERSITY OVERVIEW

Arizona State University (ASU) is a comprehensive public research university located in the metropolitan Phoenix area, the fifth-largest city in the United States. Guided by its charter—measured not by whom it excludes, but by whom it includes and how they succeed—ASU is committed to excellence, access, and impact. It is recognized globally as a leading innovator in higher education, ranked #1 in the U.S. for innovation by U.S. News & World Report since 2016.

ASU enrolls over 140,000 students across its multiple campuses and online programs, with a diverse population representing all 50 states and more than 150 countries. Its commitment to inclusion is reflected in robust support services for first-generation students, transfer students, and learners from historically underrepresented backgrounds. ASU's faculty includes Nobel laureates, MacArthur Fellows, and members of prestigious national academies, contributing to its designation as an R1: Doctoral University with very high research activity by the Carnegie Classification.

ASU's academic structure includes 16 colleges and schools that offer more than 400 undergraduate majors and over 500 graduate degree programs and certificates. Areas of strength include sustainability, global studies, business, engineering, the arts, education, public service, and innovation.

UNIVERSITY OVERVIEW

Clemson University first opened its doors in 1889 with a very clear vision: to “be a high seminary of learning in which the graduate of the common schools can commence, pursue and finish the course of studies terminating in thorough theoretic and practical instruction.” Thomas Green Clemson's now famous words left to us in his will have guided the University's actions through the years, from a college focusing on the art and science of agriculture to a university teaching students in more than 70 undergraduate and 100 graduate degree programs. More than 28,000 students call Clemson University “home” each academic year. Why? Because Clemson has a way of doing things differently. Clemson is more than a top-tier research university, more than big-time science and engineering, and more than course schedules and final exams. It's about providing experiences and enrichment opportunities that create leaders, thinkers and entrepreneurs.

Set in a college town with a beautiful backdrop of lakefronts and mountains, Clemson attracts students looking for a strong sense of community, school spirit and a love of winning -- in academics, in athletics and in life. We invite you to get more. We invite you to Clemson University.

UNIVERSITY OVERVIEW

Ohio University is the oldest public university in the state of Ohio. Established in 1804, we now have eight campuses and centers throughout the state. The Ohio University mission is to hold the door open for higher education so that all those eager to solve humanity's most urgent challenges might enter to learn. Our total enrollment is over 28,000 students across Ohio and online. About 20,000 of those students are undergraduates studying at our residential campus in Athens—our quintessential college town that's nestled in the Appalachian foothills of beautiful Southeast Ohio. We have been ranked the "Best Value Public University" in Ohio for five years in a row by U.S. News & World Report and are rated an R1: Very High Research Activity Institution by the Carnegie Foundation.

At Ohio University, we connect students with experiences and discovery that will help them think critically, care deeply, lead boldly, and ultimately depart to serve. We believe that a university education can and should be both academically excellent and affordable to all who seek it. We fully embrace that the educational experience, at its best, can and must ensure success for every student. We are confident that learning happens in community and through experiences, and we work to build both into all programs and modalities, in and out of the classroom. Ohio University is committed to working with business and community partners, not by delivering knowledge already achieved but by collaborating to build new knowledge together. We recognize that our place in the world has value in our work – that what we can teach and learn in the heart of Appalachia can shape the success of our region and be applied far beyond it. Finally, we expect respect across differences and recognize our responsibility to practice empathy, to appreciate diverse perspectives and cultures, and to develop the capacity to solve problems that transcend borders.

SUNY Plattsburgh is a public, residential college founded in 1889 and nestled on a scenic 300-acre campus in Plattsburgh, New York. With around 4,400 students, it offers a close-knit environment highlighted by a student-faculty ratio of about 15:1 and average class sizes near 20. It offers more than 70 undergraduate and graduate degree programs, including distinctive majors like expeditionary studies and robotics, and features hands-on learning through internships, undergraduate research, and study abroad in over 500 locations worldwide. SUNY Plattsburgh serves as a cultural and scholarly hub in the region, home to the Plattsburgh State Art Museum which employs a “museum without walls” approach displaying over 4,600 works across campus. Its NCAA Division III Cardinals athletic teams, including nationally successful women's ice hockey, play in facilities like the Ronald B. Stafford Ice Arena, one of the country's top venues for college hockey. Located about an hour south of Montreal, the campus balances a welcoming small-town ambiance with vibrant social life and access to the great outdoors. Students enjoy hiking, skiing, kayaking, and community activities both on and off-campus; students and alumni often describe the university as inclusive, community-driven, and rich in experiential opportunities.

UNIVERSITY OVERVIEW

The University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa (also known as UHM, or UH Mānoa) is a top-tier research, public co-educational research university as well as the flagship campus of the University of Hawai‘i system. The school is located in Mānoa, an affluent neighborhood of Honolulu, Honolulu County, Hawai‘i, United States, approximately three miles east and inland from downtown Honolulu and one mile (1.6 km) from Ala Moana and Waikīkī. The campus occupies the eastern half of the mouth of Mānoa Valley. The John A. Burns School of Medicine, part of the University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa, is located in Kaka‘ako, adjacent to the Kaka‘ako Waterfront Park. The University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa is accredited by the Western Association of Schools and Colleges from the western mainland U.S. and is governed by the Hawaii State Legislature and a semi-autonomous board of regents, which in turn, hires a president to be administrator. This university campus also houses the main offices of the entire University of Hawai‘i system. As an indigenous serving university, UHM delivers a unique multicultural global experience in a Hawaiian place of learning, with a long history of adherence to the the essence of aloha—truly like nowhere else on earth. The University of Hawai‘i at Mānoa is one of only four institutions in the United States to be members of all four Land Grant, Sea Grant, Space Grant, and Sun Grant programs.
